ABOUT

Each year, the Ending Community Homelessness Coalition (ECHO) plans and leads Austin and Travis County's PIT Count, an annual census of people experiencing homelessness. Across the country on the same morning, thousands of volunteers survey people experiencing homelessness in their communities. Data from this census contributes to local and national efforts to end homelessness.

ECHO is a coalition of stakeholders that plans, develops, prioritizes, and implements systemic, community-wide strategies to end homelessness in Austin and Travis County. We invite you to join us in this critical activity for understanding and planning homeless services in Austin and Travis County. With your help, we can work to solve homelessness together!
